PRIDE

Patch Guidelines

To earn the PRIDE patch a Brownie, Junior, Cadette, Senior or Adult Girl Scout must perform at least 4 hours of community service related to conservation. Examples of worthy projects include approved clean-up or trail maintenance activities, tree planting and any other project that improves the environment. Girl Scout troop leaders may also contact the Wilderness Council and check out an environment activity box developed by PRIDE. Environment box activities may be performed at a meeting or camping event. Service projects involving litter pickups, stream cleanup, adopt-a-highway programs, and other such activities that involve girls, adults, and/or families picking up trash to beautify an area, need to be carefully planned because they can present safety risks. Leaders please see Safety-Wise guidelines on page 43.

Girls and adults may earn the PRIDE Patch. PRIDE has paid for the patches. The patches can be picked up at the Girl Scout Council Service Centers; or you may choose to pay the shipping fee for the patches to be mailed to you.
